REBUILDING PROJECT by Marshall Lestz.

(We are excited to share this column with you each Shabbos in the spirit of helping to repair our relationships and thereby contribute to rebuilding the Beis HaMikdash.)

I CAN'T HEAR WHAT YOU'RE SAYING 'CAUSE I'M TOO BUSY COMING UP WITH MY NEXT ANSWER.

If you and an enemy can't see eye to eye, perhaps you're speaking "I" to "I."

You don't hear him, he doesn't hear you, you've both decided only your view is true.

But when we loosen our hold of needing to be right,

truth can emerge without a fight.

You discover that guy only rejected your view,

he had no intention of rejecting you.

Of course he's allowed to have a different opinion,

since when does that make someone a villain?

So try to be objective and put your ego aside, because there's a lot more peace, when there's a lot less "I."

By letting go of our need to be right, we become more pensive, and less defensive.

With our guards down, we can actually hear what the other person is saying. We may not agree, but that's okay... We've elevated ourselves. And when the other person sees that we're being patient and respectful, he'll often reciprocate. You actually made peace and influenced the other person to elevate himself. (Great job!)

Have a sensational day everybody.

Keep on Building!
